CREDENTIALS

All media credential requests for SDSU men's basketball home games should be directed to assistant sports information director Ryan Sweeter or assistant athletic director for sports information Jason Hove at least 24 hours before the event.

The sports information office may choose to mail credentials if they receive the request a week or more in advance. Otherwise, credentials may be picked up at the Jackrabbit Ticket Office inside the Stanley J. Marshall HPER Center on weekdays from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., or at the Frost Arena ticket table 60 minutes prior to the start of the event.

SDSU allows courtside access in Frost Arena only to working media. Media requiring access to phone lines and Internet for photo or story transmission should contact the SDSU sports information office in advance of the game to assist in seating assignments, etc.

SDSU permits live blogging with descriptions of the event, but doesn't permit live video streaming of either game action or post-game press conferences. Video may be archived and posted to web sites following the conclusion of the event.

—ALL CREDENTIALS ARE NON-TRANSFERABLE—

PHOTOGRAPHERS

The South Dakota State Athletic Department asks that photographers (live and still) do not interfere with the sight lines of spectators. Video may be shot from the upper-level track on the east, west and south sides of Frost Arena. At court level, photographers must remain outside the team areas and in a position as to not interfere with the game.

STATISTICS

The South Dakota State University Sports Information Office keeps official statistics and distributes final statistics to teams and members of the media at the conclusion of the game.

POST-GAME PRESS CONFERENCE

A post-game press conference may be held after home games in the Ginn Trophy Room located on the second floor of the Stanley J. Marshall HPER Center. The visiting team goes first, followed by SDSU players and coaches.

The following guidelines apply specifically to Internet sites:

- No more than two people working for the official web site of the opponent and/or its official conference site will be issued credentials.
- Web sites whose content centers around message boards and chat rooms where users can post anonymous information and/or rumors are ineligible for any consideration for credentials or access.
- Credentials will not be granted to any agency operating sites that are in any way affiliated with gambling, or to freelance or fan-based sites not affiliated with a legitimate news-gathering organization.

The final decision for credentials remains at the sole discretion of SDSU sports information personnel. Failure to abide by the guidelines outlined on this page may result in revocation of media credentials.

INTERVIEW POLICY

The South Dakota State University Sports Information Office strives to comply with all legitimate interview requests for Jackrabbit coaches, student-athletes and administrators in a timely fashion.

Interview times can be arranged through the Sports Information office or through the coach of the sport involved, preferably arranged 24 hours in advance Monday through Thursday.

Media members may not contact student-athletes directly without approval.

The SDSU Sports Information office does not release the phone numbers of student-athletes to the media, and return calls must be made collect, or via a toll free number, unless the student-athlete does the interview from the sports information or coaches office.

The media may not interview student-athletes prior to a contest on the day of the game, but may do so 10 minutes after the conclusion of contests by contacting a member of the sports information staff or coaching staff.

The South Dakota State men's basketball team continued its climb up The Summit League in 2010-11, and even though they entered The Summit League Championships as the No. 5 seed, the Jackrabbits won their opening round game and advanced to the conference semifinals before falling to the eventual champion Oakland.

The Jackrabbits did not reach the season goal of reaching their first NCAA Tournament at the Division I level, but the season did not go down as a complete disappointment on a team or individual level.

As a team, the Jackrabbits won a Division I-best 19 games, topping the previous mark of 14 set in 2009-10. The 19-12 overall record also marked the Jacks first winning season at the D-I level and the first since posting a 27-7 mark in 2003-04. The 2010-11 Jackrabbits also set team records for three-pointers in a season, both made and attempted, by going 276-of-672 from long range.

The graduation Clint Sargent, who set the SDSU record for career three-pointers, may keep the Jacks from topping the three-point mark again, but the return of junior point guard Nate Wolters puts SDSU in great position to reach numerous other goals.

Wolters set the SDSU sophomore scoring record in 2010-11 with 604 points, which leaves him just 97 points shy of reaching the 1,000 point milestone, and puts him on pace to break the SDSU career scoring record of 1,931 points. More than just a scorer, Wolters also enters his junior season on pace to finish his career in the top three in assists and top five in steals at SDSU.

A solid supporting cast also returns, including senior swingman Griffan Callahan, sophomore forward Jordan Dykstra and host of other players with plenty of game experience to help the Jackrabbits in 2011-12.

The success of the 2010-11 season showed in the 2011-12 Summit League Preseason Poll, as the league's coaches, media and sports information directors picked the Jackrabbits to finish third in the league. SDSU received 369 points and one first place vote, which lands them in third place in the poll, trailing only Oral Roberts and two-time defending champion Oakland.

Individually, Nate Wolters garnered a preseason all-league first-team selection. The junior from St. Cloud, Minn., led the Jackrabbits with 19.5 points per game in 2010-11, setting the sophomore scoring record with 604 points in the process. Sophomore Jordan Dykstra earned a spot on the second team after a standout freshman season with the Jacks last year, when he set the school record for three-point field goal percentage at 51.5 percent by going 34-for-66.

"We're very pleased to have two of our players chosen for preseason awards," head coach Scott Nagy said. "There is obviously still a lot of work to do, but being picked third at least gives us an idea that our program is moving in the right direction."

Much of the team's success can be attributed to the work in they do in the offseason with assistant athletic director for strength and conditioning Nathan Moe, who pushed the team to set 64 personal records in offseason performance testing and an additional 29 personal best marks in the preseason.

"The Men's basketball team showed steady improvement in size, strength, explosiveness and agility," Moe said. "They worked hard pushing themselves and each other in every aspect of the off-season and pre-season program. I fully expect their efforts to pay off in them being a more physical and aggressive team."

Two games against Big Ten teams, single games against SEC and Pac 12 foes and three games at the CBE Classic in Macon, Ga., highlight the 2011-12 South Dakota State men's basketball schedule.

Junior NATE WOLTERS earned all-league first team honors in 2010-11 after setting the SDSU sophomore scoring record with 604 points

"Once again I was so pleased with the effort coach Klinkufus and our administrative staff put in to get our schedule completed," Nagy said. "It's gotten increasingly difficult to complete the schedule over the last couple of years because we've become more competitive, and I hope that continues."

In addition to road games at Minnesota, Georgia, Nebraska and Washington, the 2011-12 non-conference schedule also features a home game against Western Michigan, a home-and-home-with North Dakota and a BracketBuster game on Feb. 18, against an, as of yet, undetermined opponent.

"I think we were a bit spoiled last year with so many home games, but I know Rob Klinkufus worked hard to try and balance the schedule as much as possible," Nagy said. "The addition of the BracketBuster game gives our fans a chance to see plenty of competitive basketball."

Sophomore JORDAN DYKSTRA earned all-league newcomer team honors in 2010-11 after leading the Jacks with 5.1 rebounds per game

Scott Nagy enters his 17th season as head coach of the South Dakota State men's basketball team in 2011-12 with plenty of success already behind him, and just 11 wins shy of the 300 win milestone.

In his 16 years at SDSU, Nagy guided the Jackrabbits through the transition from Division II to Division I, built an impressive 289-190 record (.603 winning percentage) at the Division I and Division II levels, and guided the Jacks to North Central Conference championships in 1996, 1997, 1998 and 2002.

Nagy also directed the Jacks to the NCAA Regional Tournament from 1996-1998 and from 2000-2004 and led the Jacks to the Elite Eight tournament in 1997.

Coach Nagy's Jackrabbits hosted the North Central Regional Tournament in 1997, 1998 and 2000.

Nagy earned North Central Conference Coach of the Year five times in 1996, 1997, 1998, 2002 and 2003.

Before he ever made his mark coaching though, Nagy made a name for himself on the basketball court, as a standout athlete at Delta State University in Cleveland, Miss.

A year after graduating from Centennial High School in Champaign, Ill., Nagy led the Statesman to a second place finish in the league and a berth in the NCAA Tournament with a 20-11 record, earning him Gulf South Conference Freshman of the Year honors.

A year later, DSU won the conference title and advanced to the NCAA Tournament with a 23-8 record.

The Statesmen finished second in the Gulf South in Nagy's junior year, but they still advanced to the NCAA Tournament, and eventually to the Final Four with a 24-9 overall record.

Delta State did not make the tournament in Nagy's senior year, but he still garnered Gulf South Conference Athlete of the Year honors in 1988.

Adding to his accomplishments on the court, Nagy also excelled in the classroom, earning Gulf South all-academic honors for three straight years.

Nagy still holds the Delta State record for games played in a career with 122, career assists with 549, assists in a season with 234 and assists in a game with 15, which he did twice.

Nagy's skills on and off the court earned him an induction into the Delta State Sports Hall of Fame in 2001.

Upon graduating from Delta State with a degree in business administration in 1988, Nagy embarked on his coaching career, which started with two seasons as a graduate assistant at the University of Illinois under head coach Lou Henson.

In Nagy's two seasons in Champaign, Illinois advanced to the NCAA tournament twice, including a trip to the Final Four in 1989. On top of that, his two years at Illinois gave Nagy the opportunity to coach along side of his dad Dick, a longtime Illinois assistant.

Nagy earned his master's degree in physical education from Illinois in 1990, and then came to South Dakota State as an assistant coach under head coach Jim Thorson from 1990-93.

In his first year on the SDSU bench, the Jackrabbits won the NCC post-season tournament title, the second year they won the NCC regular season title and in all three years the Jacks advanced to the NCAA Tournament.

Nagy left South Dakota State in 1993 to take a job as an assistant under head coach Jack Margenthaler at Southern Illinois University-Edwardsville for two seasons before coming back to Brookings in 1995 as the Jackrabbits 20th head coach.

Just 29 years old when he took over the program, Nagy started his winning ways in his first season on the job, when he led the Jacks to the NCC title and to a second place finish at the region tournament. In his first season as a head coach on any level, Nagy earned NCC Coach of the Year honors, as the Jacks finished the season with a 24-5 record.

Things only got better in year two, when Nagy guided the Jackrabbits to an 86-74 win over defending national champion Fort Hays State in the regional tournament, earning the Jackrabbits a trip to the Elite Eight Tournament in Springfield, Mass. The Jacks finished the season with a 25-5 record, and for the second time in as many years, The NCC named Nagy its Coach of the Year.

Nagy's Jackrabbits jumped out to a 21-0 start and a number one rank in the country to start year three, as SDSU cruised to its third straight NCC title and second place finish at the region tournament. Nagy also took home NCC Coach of the Year honors for the third straight year and tied a school record for wins with 26.

By coach Nagy's standards, the 1998-99 season represents a lean year, as the Jacks finished

After just one year out of postseason play, Nagy led his team back to the NCAA Regional Tournament in the next two years with a combined record of 43-16 and picked up his 100th career win on Dec. 14, 1999, in a 69-52 win over Dakota Wesleyan.

Nagy earned NCC Coach of the Year honors for a fourth time in 2002, when he led the Jacks to a 15-1 start against NCC opponents.

SDSU went on to win the regular and postseason conference titles, but finished second in the regional tournament, losing to the eventual national champion Metropolitan State.

Injuries plagued the Jacks in 2003, but Nagy rallied the team to a 24-7 season. They finished second in the NCC, qualified for the region tournament and Nagy earned NCC Coach of the Year honors for a fifth time, becoming the first coach in conference history win the award without winning the regular season title.

In the final year of Division II competition, Nagy led the Jackrabbits to a 17-0 start and a second place finish in the NCC.

The Jackrabbits advanced to the regional tournament, where the season eventually ended with a school record 27 wins.

Nagy also won his 200th game in 2004, a 92-79 win over South Dakota in the Jacks last game against the Coyotes in Frost Arena, and he did it in front of 8,489 fans.

The all-time leader in men's basketball coaching victories at SDSU, when the Jackrabbits left NCAA Division II, Nagy ranked second among active D-II coaches at with a .781 winning percentage.

History shows that Nagy wins, and as the Jackrabbits enter their fourth season as a full member of Division I with postseason eligibility and their fifth season in The Summit League, they take another step in their return to the top of college basketball.

South Dakota State Head Men's Basketball Coach Scott Nagy teamed-up with Samaritan's Feet again during the 2010-11 season to raise money and shoes for children in Africa, and this week he follows through on his promise to deliver shoes to the children in Zimbabwe.

Coach Nagy wanted to share his experience in Africa with Jackrabbit fans, and decided the best way to do that would be through daily blog updates on GoJacks.com for the duration of his stay. Stay with GoJacks.com for the latest updates on coach Nagy's journey.

Tuesday, Aug. 2, 2011: "I'm sure I feel like my daughter Naika feels in Brookings, as I am in a very small minority here, and I certainly stand out, but the people are incredibly kind and gentle."

Sunday, July 31, 2011: "We spent today getting ready for all of the containers that come in tomorrow with the shoes and the shelters. We're conducting basketball clinics for the local youth on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, and it looks like we'll have about 100 kids and four baskets to work with."

Thursday, Aug. 4, 2011: "Big change of plans today. We were supposed to go on a safari this morning, but we received the shelters last night, so we began working on them right away. It was very difficult to see what needed to happen without adequate lighting, so we quit working around 9 p.m. We came home went to bed and got up at 5:30 a.m. so we could be at the site at first light."

Tuesday, Aug. 9, 2011: As is usually the case, you go somewhere to help people and you go home being more affected than the people you supposedly helped.

Head coach Scott Nagy teamed up with Samaritan's Feet in each of the last three seasons to raise money and shoes for children around the world, including Haiti, and the cause really hits home for Nagy and his family, especially after a major earthquake shook the country on Jan. 12, 2010.

"My wife Jamie and I adopted our daughter Naika from Haiti, so we've seen first-hand the need for shoes there," Nagy said. "We look forward to working with Samaritan's Feet again this year, and we know the money and shoes we raise go straight to helping the Haitian people."

Nagy raised over $6,000 for the relief efforts in Haiti after the devastating 2010 earthquake, and then took it to another level last season, when the entire Jackrabbit coaching staff coached in their bare feet against IPFW on Jan. 22, to raise money for shoes and shelters in Zimbabwe.

Jackrabbit fans can play their part again in 2012, when Nagy coaches barefoot when the Jacks host UMKC on Jan. 14, in Frost Arena. Anyone interested in donating can simply text SHOES to 85944, which automatically adds $5 to your next phone bill. Donations from the 605 area code go specifically to help Nagy's cause.

About Samaritan's Feet

A humanitarian relief organization that puts shoes on kid's feet all around the world, Samaritan's Feet distributes shoes to young people in 42 countries worldwide displaced by poverty, war and religious persecution.

Emmanuel "Manny" Ohonme founded the organization in 2003. Manny grew up exceedingly poor in Lagos, Nigeria, and never owned a pair of shoes until a stranger gave him his first pair at age nine.

That moment in his life, according to him, inspired Manny to try and make a difference in the lives of other people.

BIRTH DATE: April 10, 1978 – Creston, Iowa

HIGH SCHOOL: Harlan Community High School, Harlan, Iowa

EDUCATION: B.A. Secondary Education – Buena Vista (Iowa), 2000
M.S. Education – Drake, 2004

COACHING CAREER: Assistant Coach – South Dakota State, 2006-present
Assistant Coach – Buena Vista, 2001-06
Associate Head Coach – Storm Lake H.S., 2000-01

Rob Klinkefus returns to South Dakota State in 2011-12 for his sixth year on Scott Nagy's staff. Klinkefus came to SDSU from Buena Vista University in Storm Lake, Iowa, where he worked as an assistant coach from 2001-06 under Brian Van Haaften, one of the most successful coaches in the history of Division III basketball.

After spending his first two seasons coaching the Jackrabbit guards, Klinkefus returned to the familiar position of coaching the post players in 2008-09, something he did with great success in the past, coaching a total of eight all-conference posts and one conference MVP in his six years of coaching the position.

"I'm incredibly excited to coach this group of guys," said Klinkefus. "They worked hard in the offseason doing all of the things needed to put themselves in position for a successful season."

In addition to coaching the post players, Klinkefus' on court duties include game preparations for the Jackrabbit opponents and implementing the offensive and defensive schemes. He also handles individual workouts throughout the year.

"Rob is an extremely detail orientated coach, which compliments my coaching style well," said Nagy. "As we implement our offensive and defensive schemes for each game, Rob is always looking for ways to make us more efficient."

Recruiting though remains his top priority, as the Jackrabbits look to continue the success of signing some of the top players in the Midwest to South Dakota State.

"Rob's recruited for a long time, and sometimes those days on the road can get long, but I think Rob thinks of it as a perk," said Nagy. "He loves getting out and talking with these kids, and I can't even begin to explain how much of an asset that is to our program."

Klinkefus' coaching career started in 2000, when he took an Associate Head Coach job at Storm Lake St. Mary's High School. After a year at St. Mary's, Klinkefus returned to Buena Vista as an assistant for the five most successful years in the program's history. During his tenure at BVU, the Beavers posted a 115-33 overall record, a winning percentage of nearly 80 percent. During that same span, the Beavers won five straight IIAC tournament titles with a perfect 15-0 record and qualified for five straight national tournaments. During those five years, Klinkefus coached a total of 15 all-conference players and three conference MVPs.

Klinkefus begins his fifth season at South Dakota State, where he helped lead the program to the top half of The Summit League in just its third year in the conference. The Jackrabbits look to continue that climb to the top this year, as they once again enter the season picked to finish in the top half of the league.

As an athlete, Klinkefus' accolades started rolling in during his prep career at Harlan High School. He lettered three times in baseball, made the all-area team and earned all-district honors his junior and senior years. He led the team to the state tournament as a junior, and then capped his baseball career with a state title as a senior.

Klinkefus did most of his damage on the gridiron, racking up a 20-2 record in two years as a starter. He earned first team all-state quarterback his senior year, and helped lead the Cyclones to the Iowa Class 3-A state title his sophomore and senior years.

The football honors continued to roll in at Buena Vista, where he started at quarterback all four years. The Beavers named him their new-comer-of-the-year as a freshman, and by the time he graduated with a B.A. in Secondary Education in 2000, he ranked third all-time in total offense.

Before leaving Buena Vista for South Dakota State, Klinkefus earned a Master of Science degree in Education from Drake University in Des Moines, Iowa.

Former Jackrabbit standout Austin Hansen returns to South Dakota State for his fourth season on the men's basketball staff as an assistant coach in 2011-12 after working for five years as an assistant coach at Minnesota State, Mankato.

"We're thrilled to have Austin on our staff," said Scott Nagy. "Having a coach on staff that played for me benefits us all, and it helps us in recruiting, because he can tell kids what it's really like here. He's an incredibly hard worker and extremely organized, and that's important in recruiting."

"I love being at South Dakota State and a part of a program with so much history and tradition," said Hansen. "Coach Nagy has had a tremendous impact on me both on the floor when I played for him and off the floor dealing with life's challenges. He's well respected in the coaching profession and it's been great to come back and work for him. I've really enjoyed helping our basketball program become a contender at the Division I level."

Hansen graduated from SDSU in 2003 with a degree in health physical education and recreation, and started with the Mavericks as a graduate assistant in 2003. He then joined the staff as a full-time assistant in 2005 after earning a master's degree in sports administration.

In his five years on the Maverick bench, the Valley Springs, S.D., native helped guide the Mavericks to a 116-37 overall record, including a school record 28 wins in 2007. He also helped lead them to four straight NCAA tournament appearances from 2005-08, three North Central Conference regular season championships from 2006-08 and to an NCC Finals championship in 2006.

Hansen coached a total of 12 all-NCC selections, five academic all-NCC players, eight all-North Central Region selections, two NCC most valuable players, two NCC newcomers of the year, one NCC defensive player of the year and one NCC freshman of the year.

Long before making his mark as a coach, Hansen did it on the court for the Jackrabbits from 1999-2003, as the only player in South Dakota State men's basketball history to lead the Jackrabbits in scoring all four years on the team.

With Hansen on the court, the Jacks advanced to four North Central Regional Tournaments and won the North Central Conference regular and postseason titles in 2002.

Hansen finished his Jackrabbit career with 1,815 points, which ranks third on the SDSU all-time charts, and his 37-point performance against Morningside on Dec. 29, 2000, still ranks as the ninth best single-game performance in school history.

A three-time All-NCC and two-time all-regional selection as a Jackrabbit, Hansen sits atop the SDSU record book in all-time three-point field goals made in a season with 85 in 2003 and in a career with 235. Hansen's three-point prowess allowed him to become the only Jackrabbit player ever to score 400 or more points in four consecutive seasons.

Hansen's 225 career steals ranks third all-time at SDSU, and his 280 career assists ranks eighth all-time.

Hansen also excelled off the court, earning

Academic All-NCC honors three times and academic all-region twice.

Over the course of his career, Hansen played in 119 games, all of them starts, and led the Scott Nagy led Jackrabbits to a 91-29 four-year record. Coincidentally, the only game he ever missed in his four-years at SDSU came against MSU-Mankato during his senior year.

Before he took the floor at SDSU, Hansen led the Brandon Valley Lynx to the Class AA title in his senior year, earning him multiple Player-of-the-Year and South Dakota Mr. Basketball honors. When he graduated from BVHS in 1998, Hansen held the school records for assists, three-point field goals and consecutive free throws made.

Hansen and his wife, Andrea, live in Brookings.

AUSTIN HANSEN earned four varsity letters as a player at South Dakota State, and ranks third on the all-time scoring list with 1,815 career points

A 1969 graduate of South Dakota State University, David L. Chicoine became the third alumnus to sit in the South Dakota State University president's office when he took office on Jan. 1, 2007.

The 19th president in school history met his wife, Marcia, whom he spotted in an English class to which he claims perfect attendance—after he noticed her there first, of course.

President Chicoine spent the majority of the next 30 years away from South Dakota State working in higher education at the University of Illinois, where he held administrative posts, including Vice President of Technology and Economic Development and Dean of the College of Agriculture.

While vice president at the University of Illinois, President Chicoine helped launch IllinoisVENTURES, LLC, a seed and early-stage technology investment firm. He also reached new milestones each year in restructuring the university's technology licensing offices.

As its dean, President Chicoine transformed the College of Agriculture, leaving it with seven academic departments and an Information Technology unit in place of the previous 14 administrative units. He raised $134 million in private gifts (surpassing the campaign's goal of $115 million) and increased the endowment to $60 million.

Of the eight siblings in President Chicoine's family, five attended State, including President

Chicoine and his brother Jeff, who finished school here the year before him.

When President Chicoine graduated, he did so alongside former U.S. Senator Tom Daschle and several men and women who work at South Dakota State today.

At State, President Chicoine also met long-time friend and colleague Robert Todd, with whom he worked with almost 30 years at the University of Illinois.

The president and his wife, Marcia, live in Woodbine Cottage. Their family includes son Joshua, a Chicago-based musician; daughter-in-law Laura Ellsworth; granddaughter Sylvie; and their late son Jason.

President Chicoine serves as the 19th president of the University and the 17th to live in the historic cottage.

DIRECTOR OF ATHLETICS JUSTIN SELL

Justin Sell, who served as an athletic administrator at the University of Northern Iowa for 10 years, became the 12th director of athletics at South Dakota State University on May 7, 2009.

"Justin brings a wide range of experiences from other Division I universities to South Dakota State," President David L. Chicoine said in making the announcement. "He has a degree of familiarity with our athletic programs' conference affiliations, and he demonstrates an appreciation for Jackrabbit athletics. Most importantly, he shares our common aspirations for the future success of our student-athletes and teams."

At South Dakota State, Sell oversees the Jackrabbits' 21-sport Division I varsity athletics program. Eighteen SDSU teams compete in The Summit League, while football competes in the Missouri Valley Football Conference of the Football Championship Subdivision and wrestling competes as a member of the Western Wrestling Conference. Women's equestrian competes in Varsity Equestrian and the Intercollegiate Horse Show Association.

During his first year at SDSU, the Jackrabbits displayed success across the board, winning Summit League regular season titles in men's cross country, women's soccer and baseball and a conference tournament championship in women's basketball. The football and women's basketball teams made postseason NCAA Tournament appearances. Sell also implemented aggressive marketing and fundraising initiatives that resulted in record average attendance for football and the highest number of donors and dollars donated to the Jackrabbit Club and through corporate sponsorships.

In the years to come, Sell wants to continue reconnecting with former Jackrabbit student-athletes and enhancing the athletic facilities while still maintaining success on the field, court, track, in the pool and most importantly, in the classroom.

In the classroom, Jackrabbit student-athletes continue to excel as SDSU claimed The Summit League's Institutional Academic Achievement Award for the 2009-10 academic year. In the spring of 2010, 67 percent of Jackrabbit student-athletes posted a grade-point average of 3.0 or higher. Sixteen of 19 teams - indoor and outdoor track are combined into one men's and one women's team - held cumulative team GPAs of 3.0 or higher. Following the 2010 spring semester, the over 450 Jackrabbit student-athletes combined to post a cumulative GPA of 3.19.

Born in Salem, Ore., and raised in Columbus, Ohio, Sell most recently served as senior associate athletic director at UNI since 2006. His primary duties at the Cedar Falls-based university included sport management, oversight of the athletic business office, facilities, game management, summer camps and human resources, while also assisting in fundraising and corporate sponsorships.

In his previous roles as an assistant and associate athletic director at UNI, Sell managed facility operations and the planning of capital projects, including the $26 million McLeod Center and the $7 million Human Performance Center. He also oversaw the UNI-Dome budget and oversaw the development generation team to enhance marketing, development and ticket income.

Aside from his duties at UNI, Sell played an active role in the community as president of the Cedar Valley Sports and Entertainment Commission, the driving force behind bringing several major concerts and sporting events to the Waterloo-Cedar Falls area, including the National Wrestling Coaches Association National Duals and several youth tournaments.

Prior to joining the staff at UNI, Sell worked four years at Villanova University (Pa.), where he served as an assistant director of athletic facilities and intramural director before being named director of ticket operations.

Sell earned his bachelor's degree in sport management from Bowling Green State University (Ohio) in 1991 and completed a master's degree in physical education/sport administration at The Ohio State University in 1992.

THE SUMMIT LEAGUE

Celebrating its 30th season in Division I athletics

Individually on the hardwood, Oakland's Keith Benson was selected in the second round of the 2011 NBA Draft by the Atlanta Hawks and Oral Roberts' Steven Roundtree was named Mid-Major Freshman of the Year by CollegeInsider.com. On the women's side, ORU's Kevi Luper became the first player in NCAA history to lead the nation in both points per game and steals per game in the same season.

Several teams continued impressive championship streaks within the league in 2010-11. Oral Roberts, which finished the season nationally-ranked, won its 14th-straight baseball title, tying for the second-longest streak in NCAA history. Oakland captured its 12th-consecutive men's and women's swimming and diving titles while North Dakota State won its fourth-straight men's and women's indoor track and field championships and its third softball crown in a row. South Dakota State became the first women's basketball team to win three consecutive league championships.

The Summit League enjoyed a successful track and field season with eight All-Americans, including six at the NCAA Outdoor Championships. Oral Roberts' Jack Whitt finished as runner-up in the pole vault at the Outdoor Championships after placing third indoors. North Dakota State's Whitney Carlson became the first female athlete in league history to earn All-America honors in two events at both the NCAA Indoor and Outdoor Championships during the same year.

Two Summit League student-athletes received the prestigious NCAA Elite 88 Award, given to the student-athlete with the highest cumulative grade-point average participating at the finals site for each of the NCAA championships. Amy Anderson (women's golf) and Carlson (outdoor track and field), both from North Dakota State, the lone non-FBS public university to have multiple recipients, were presented with the honor and added All-America honors for their athletic performances.

Anderson led the league's individual accomplishments, placing 12th at the NCAA Women's Golf Championships, the highest finish ever by a Summit League player, and competing as an amateur in the U.S. Women's Open. IPFW's Amy Recht claimed her fourth consecutive Women's Tennis Player of the Year honor and became the first Summit League athlete to win the sport's top award in each season of eligibility.

Academically, six Summit League student-athletes received Academic All-America honors and six teams were bestowed with the NCAA Public Recognition Award, an honor given to teams that have a Division I Academic Progress Rate (APR) in the top 10 percent of all squads in their respective sports.

The accomplishments of 2010-11 came on the heels of the exceptional success the previous two years. In 2009-10, IUPUI's Chen Ni became The Summit League's first female NCAA Champion when she took first in the platform dive. Oakland's Keith Benson was named the Lou Henson Award winner as the nation's Mid-Major Player of the Year.

The preceding year, Oral Roberts track star Andretti Bain won a silver medal at the 2008 Beijing Olympics as a member of the "Ascending" and "improving" are adjectives frequently used in media coverage of The Summit League as it continues a renaissance on the playing field and in the classroom.

As The Summit League celebrates its 30th anniversary season as an NCAA Division I athletics conference, the level of performance and achievement among the 11 member institutions and over 3,000 student-athletes in 19 championship sports continues to grow.

Since 2007, The Summit League has produced 39 All-Americans and 28 Academic All-America selections along with three NCAA Champions, two NBA Draft choices and one Olympic Silver medalist.

Headlining The Summit League's most recent history were the additions of the University of South Dakota and the University of Nebraska Omaha to its membership. USD joined in 2009 and the 2011-12 academic year marks its first year of full league competition. UNO's membership took effect on July 1, 2011 and it will begin league competition in 2012-13.

The Summit League's visibility continues to expand on several fronts. The 2011 Baseball Championship drew a record 5,128 fans, topping the previous high by almost 1,500. Another successful Summit League Basketball Championship totaled a combined attendance of over 32,000 which ranked as the second-highest figure in league history while the men's tournament was one of just six outside the traditional "power conferences" to average 4,400 or better per session.

Television exposure also increased with the broadcasts of four Summit League sport championships in 2010-11. For the second consecutive season, all 14 men's and women's basketball tournament games were televised live, including the women's championship on ESPN and the men's on ESPN2. Furthermore, The Summit League Outdoor Track and Field Championships were televised for the first time and the league's entire Baseball Tournament was carried live, marking another first.

The national reach of The Summit League was furthered when three member institutions hosted 2010-11 NCAA Championship events. IUPUI was a quad-host for the Women's Basketball Final Four, UMKC co-hosted the Volleyball Championship and Oakland hosted the Great Lakes Cross Country Regional Championship. In 2013, Oakland will host the Men's Basketball Second and Third Rounds and IUPUI will serve as co-host for a Men's Basketball Regional.

In men's basketball, The Summit League ranked No. 18 in the Sagarin Ratings, placing four teams among the top 150 and six in the top 200. In the Mid-Major Top 25 poll, league champion Oakland ranked No. 5 with two first-place votes entering the NCAA Tournament, putting them ahead of two Final Four participants, including the national runner-up. The Summit League set a league-record by playing 16 games against AP nationally-ranked teams, the highest total among mid-majors, including seven top-10 opponents, highlighted by Oakland's win at then-No. 7 Tennessee.

Women's basketball joined the men in sending multiple teams to the postseason with three teams advancing for the second-straight year, including Oral Roberts, which reached the WNIT's round of 16 to match the league's deepest run in that tournament. Summit League teams combined to record four victories over "power six" conference foes during the season.

One of the Summit League's most iconic moments came when Valparaiso's Bryce Drew hit "the shot", a game-winning three-pointer at the buzzer, to top Mississippi in the first round of the 1998 NCAA Tournament. Valpo's story captivated the nation as they became the league's second team to reach the "Sweet 16."

Bahamas' 4x400-meter relay team after winning both the NCAA Indoor and Outdoor 400-meter titles and IUPUI's George Hill became The Summit League's second NBA first round draft pick.

Originally formed in 1982 as the Association of Mid-Continent Universities and later known as the Mid-Continent Conference, The Summit League is in its fifth year of rebranding that followed its 25th anniversary and coincided with the Summit Plan, a strategic plan that places a renewed emphasis on improving the academic and athletic performances of all league student-athletes. Included in the plan was the league's new name, the creation of a new image and the addition of three member institutions.

The Summit League has a combined enrollment of over 135,000 at 11 universities, five of which are located in the top 76 U.S. media markets (Detroit, Indianapolis, Kansas City, Tulsa and Omaha). Member institutions include: IPFW (Indiana University-Purdue University-Fort Wayne), IUPUI (Indiana University-Purdue University-Indianapolis), UMKC (University of Missouri-Kansas City), the University of Nebraska Omaha (which begins league competition in 2012-13), North Dakota State University, Oakland University, Oral Roberts University, the University of South Dakota (in its first year as a full member), South Dakota State University, Southern Utah University and Western Illinois University. Eastern Illinois University is an associate member in swimming and diving and men's soccer.

These member institutions pride themselves on providing quality athletic, academic and social experiences for their student-athletes.

The Summit League sponsors 19 championship sports: baseball, men's and women's basketball, men's and women's cross country, men's and women's golf, men's and women's soccer, softball, men's and women's swimming and diving, men's and women's indoor track and field, men's and women's outdoor track and field, men's and women's tennis, and volleyball. The league champion receives an automatic bid to the NCAA Tournament in all applicable sports.

Since its inception in 1982, The Summit League has had several transcendent moments on the national stage. In 1986, Cleveland State upset third-seeded Indiana in the first round of the NCAA Men's Basketball Tournament on its way to a berth in the Sweet 16. A decade later, Valparaiso captured the nation's attention when Bryce Drew hit "the shot" to defeat No. 4 seed Mississippi in an NCAA first-round game and spark its Sweet 16 run.

More recently, Oral Roberts' baseball program finished the 2004 campaign with a national ranking and became the first Summit League school to reach an NCAA Super Regional in 2006. Three years later, North Dakota State's 2009 softball team became the first League member to win an NCAA regional and advance to the Super Regional round. During the 2008-09 basketball season, South Dakota State's women's team was nationally-ranked throughout the year and capped its season with an NCAA Tournament first round victory.

The League has produced five NCAA champions, four Olympic athletes and several All-Americans in the sports of track and field, swimming and diving and cross country. Numerous professional athletes and several draft choices have come directly from The Summit League, including three Major League Baseball first round picks, a pair of NBA first rounders, and one WNBA selection. Former Summit Leaguer Kevin Duckworth (NBA) was a two-time all-star during his professional career.

Recent and historical success coupled with an increased growth among its membership base gives The Summit League a promising future on the landscape of college athletics.

Game day at Frost Arena brings out the best in Jackrabbit fans and players. Since opening in 1973, the Jacks can claim two undefeated seasons at home, 18-0 in 1985 and 17-0 in 2003. Overall, the Jacks win exactly 77 percent of their games in Frost Arena. Although listed as an 8,000 seat facility at the time, more than 9,000 fans packed into Frost Arena on four different occasions, with the largest crowd coming in at 9,456 fans on Feb. 11, 1989 in a 90-77 win over Augustana. In 2005, SDSU spent more than $3-Million to install new state of the art video scoreboards in Frost Arena and Coughlin Alumni Stadium, creating a whole new experience for the Jackrabbits faithful fan base.

R.B. "JACK" FROST

South Dakota State plays its home games in Frost Arena, named after former SDSU coach and Athletic Director R.B. "Jack" Frost.

The facility, part of the Stanley J. Marshall HPER Center, now seats 6,500 fans for basketball. The SDSU-Augustana game on Feb. 11, 1989, attracted an arena record 9,456 fans, a record which may never be broken since the new chair-back courtside seating, added before the 1992-93 season, eliminated nearly 500 seats from the arena total.

The improved seating represents just one in a series of changes. In 2005, the university spent more than $3-million to install state-of-the-art scoreboards throughout Frost Arena and in Coughlin Alumni Stadium, incorporating a colorful scorer's bench at courtside and adding an $80,000 sound system to the arena.

The improvements continued in the summer of 2007, when the Frost Arena Floor got a brand new paint job.

The university let bids totaling $3,374,115 for the facility following legislative approval of the project, with the bill signed by Governor Frank Farrar on Feb. 14, 1970. They broke ground on Sept. 22, 1970 and then Governor Richard Kneip placed the cornerstone on Oct. 2, 1971. Final cost of the building totaled $3,685,000, with the difference made up by gifts and items donated later.

An international leader in health, physical education and recreation, Frost represented the United States in Athens, Greece at the Fifth Session of the International Olympic Academy in 1965.

An author, teacher, coach and administrator, Dr. Frost's influence on this university remains today. He mentored Dr. Stanley Marshall, in whose honor the HPER Center is named.

One of the most successful programs in any division, South Dakota State begins its 106th season of men's basketball in 2011-12 with

1,330 victories.

Head coach Scott Nagy, now in his 17th season, owns 289 of those wins and eight of the 19 20-win seasons in Jackrabbit history.

The 2004-05 season brought SDSU basketball to a new level, as the Jackrabbits began the five-year transition to Division I, one more step forward for a program that started in NAIA, moved up to the NCAA College Division and then to NCAA Division II as a charter member of the North Central Conference.

A CHARTER MEMBER OF THE NORTH CENTRAL CONFERENCE FOR 83 YEARS, SDSU LEFT THE NCC FOLLOWING THE 2003-04 SEASON FOR DIVISION I

SDSU began the transition into Division I as an independent looking for a conference, which they found on Aug. 30, 2006, when the Mid-Continent Conference Presidents Council voted unanimously to extend an invitation for membership starting in the 2007-08 season, the final year of the Jackrabbits D-I transition.

THE MID-CONTINENT CONFERENCE CHANGED ITS NAME TO THE SUMMIT LEAGUE IN 2007

As a member of the Mid-Con, renamed The Summit League in 2007, the Jacks played for the regular season league title in 2007-08, but could not participate in the post-season tournament. That changed in 2008-09 as South Dakota State completed its Division I transition and got its first chance to win the postseason title in 2008-09 season, when The Summit League Championships started a four-year run at the Sioux Falls Arena.

Prior to making the move to D-I, the South Dakota State basketball program left its mark in the North Central Conference and NCAA Division II athletics.

The Jackrabbits won 20 North Central Conference championships, appeared in 24 NCAA College Division/Division II tournaments and won more NCC holiday tournament titles than any other team. SDSU won the holiday tournament title in 1968, 1969, 1973, 1977 and 1979. The Jacks also won the NCC tournament played in Sioux City, Iowa, in 1950.

South Dakota State produced more individuals to win the league's most valuable player award, 12, than any other league member. The last being Jason Sempsrott, who captured the honor in 1997.

In 1979-80, SDSU became the first and only team to win the NCC "Triple Crown", claiming championships in the holiday tournament, regular season and post-season tournament. The Jacks then hosted and won the NCAA Division II North Central Regional Tournament, advancing to the quarterfinals of the national tournament.

In 1985, SDSU not only hosted and won the North Central Regional, but also became the first team in South Dakota to host an NCAA quarter-final game. On March 16, 1985, a Frost Arena, and NCAA Division II playoff record, 9,339 fans watched the Jacks defeat Cal State-Hayward 62-58, giving the Jackrabbits a berth in the NCAA Final Four.

SDSU is one of only two North Central Conference teams that can boast of winning a national championship. The 1963 Jackrabbits, coached by Jim Iverson and featuring All-American center Tom Black, went 22-5 for the season, and won the NCAA College Division championship on a dramatic 40-foot shot by Sid Bostic at the buzzer. Bostic's buzzer-beater gave South Dakota State a 44-42 victory over Eldon Miller's Wittenberg Tigers in the 1963 title showdown in Evansville, Ind.

Twenty-one consecutive tournaments passed without an NCC team in the title game until 1985, when the Jackrabbits returned. Unfortunately though, a storybook year for the Jacks did not get a fairy tale ending. Jacksonville State rallied from a 71-64 deficit with 2:14 to play to defeat SDSU 74-73 in an exciting championship game on March 23, 1985 at the Division II Final Four in Springfield, Mass.

On Feb. 2, 1993, the Jacks added another milestone, becoming just the eighth team in NCAA Division II history to win 1,000 or more games. SDSU achieved that milestone in a win 69-67 win at Nebraska-Omaha.

In total, the Jackrabbits won regional titles in 1959, 1961, 1963, 1970, 1980, 1985, 1992 and 1997, they also participated in the national playoffs (which started in 1957) in 1960, 1968, 1969, 1972, 1973, 1978, 1984, 1988, 1991, 1996, 1998, 2000, 2001, 2002, 2003 and 2004.

In 1997, the Jacks claimed their eighth regional championship and advanced to the Elite Eight Tournament, this time in Louisville, Ky., where, on March, 19, they fell to Lynn University (Fla.) 78-72 in the Elite Eight.

Three Jackrabbit players earned the Outstanding Player award at the national finals tournament – Don Jacobsen, when State finished third in 1961; Wayne Rasmussen in 1963 and Mark Tetzlaff in 1985.

Another of the small town products, Virg Riley from Dell Rapids, played on Team USA in the 1959 World Championships and eight Jackrabbit players of recent history tried out with pro teams in this country.

In 1980, the Washington Bullets selected Steve Lingenfelter with the 44th pick in the NBA Draft. In 1980-81, he passed up the opportunity to play in the NBA, choosing instead to spend a season in Italy. He made the Bullets roster at the start of the 1983 season and played in seven games. Lingenfelter played the 1984 season in the Continental Basketball Association, but played in three games during a ten-day contract with the San Antonio Spurs.

The Baltimore Bullets drafted Tom Black with the 72nd overall pick in 1964, but he chose to play with the Phillips 66 Oilers of the old Amateur Athletic Union (AAU) Basketball League. In 1970-71, Black played in 71 games for the Seattle SuperSonics and Cincinnati Royals of the NBA, averaging 4.2 points and 3.6 rebounds per game. Guy Mackner also played in the AAU league, and along with Black, played his way into the AAU league Hall of Fame.

In 1968, The San Diego Rockets drafted Dave Miller with the 198th overall pick and in 1973, the Houston Rockets drafted Lee Colburn with the 58th pick, but neither played a game in the NBA.

In more recent years, a trio of Jackrabbits made a name for themselves playing basketball overseas. Ben Beran started the trend shortly after he graduated in 2009, when he signed on to play with USC Heidelberg in the German ProA league. After one year in Germany, Beran headed down under to play with the Lakeside Lightnings in the Australia State Basketball League, where he continues play as a starter after leading the team to a regular season title with a 24-2 record in 2011.

Kai Williams graduated in 2010 and immediately took his talents to France, where he averaged 7.7 points and 3.6 rebounds per game in 2010-11 for ADA Blois Basket in the French NM1 league.

Like Beran, 2011 graduate Clint Sargent signed with USC Heidelberg for the 2011-12 season, scoring 10 points in his pro debut on Oct. 1, 2011, against BV Chemnitz in Chemnitz, Germany.

FACILITIES

South Dakota State University provides its student-athletes the opportunity to train and compete in some of the finest facilities in The Summit League. Within the past five years, SDSU added or enhanced several Jackrabbit athletic facilities, including:

- Construction of new on-campus baseball and softball competition fields;
- Construction of a new equestrian center;
- Installation of new video boards and scoreboards at Coughlin-Alumni Stadium and Frost Arena;
- Completion of a practice soccer field

SDSU further enhanced its student-athlete facilities in 2009 with the completion of the Dykhouse Student-Athlete Center. Located in the north end zone of Coughlin-Alumni Stadium, the Dykhouse Student-Athlete Center houses an academic center for use by all Jackrabbit student-athletes, as well as new locker room and training facilities for the SDSU football team.

Construction on the Dykhouse Student-Athlete Center marks the first stage of a master plan to dramatically modernize athletic facilities at SDSU.

The $6 million donated by Sioux Falls bankers Dana Dykhouse and T. Denny Sanford in the fall of 2007 set in motion the construction of the first major athletic building on campus since Frost Arena in 1973.

Future additions to the Dykhouse Student-Athlete Center, which would be included in a comprehensive athletic facilities master plan, would house offices, meeting rooms and locker facilities for all outdoor sports at South Dakota State University.

The Dykhouse Student-Athlete Center opened in the fall of 2009

SDSU added state of the art video scoreboards in Frost Arena in 2005

EXCELLENCE

With a record enrollment of 12,725 students in the fall of 2011, South Dakota State University remains the state's largest institution of higher education. Students from all 50 states and more than 40 nations attend SDSU, a public, land-grant institution.

SDSU granted nearly 70,000 degrees since its charter in 1881, with degrees offered through these nine colleges:

- Agriculture and Biological Sciences
- Arts and Sciences
- Education and Counseling
- Engineering
- Family and Consumer Sciences
- General Studies
- Nursing
- Pharmacy
- Graduate School

SDSU also offers degree programs through the University Center in Sioux Falls. The Office of Continuing and Extended Education coordinates evening, RDTN, Internet and off-campus courses.

SDSU offers more than 200 majors, minors and options, with more than 2,500 different course offerings. Students can choose from more than 200 clubs and organizations active on campus.

Master's degrees can be earned in more than 30 areas, with doctorates available in eight fields.

SDSU maintains a student-faculty ratio of 18:1.

The University as a whole employs more than 2,000 people, with a total operating budget of nearly $208 million in fiscal year 2008.

South Dakota State University continues to experience unprecedented growth, both in enrollment and building projects.

Projects recently completed or currently under way include:

- The $48 million, 144,000-square-foot Avera Health and Science Center;
- Harding Hall South, a 30,000-square-foot building that houses an expansion within the College of Engineering;
- The $6 million Dykhous Student-Athlete Center;
- Caldwell Hall, with work beginning on additional suite-style residence halls;
- A $7.8 million campus wellness center

The SDSU Foundation's "It Starts With State" campaign, a comprehensive fund-raising initiative designed to raise $190 million over the next several years, continues to identify additional facility projects and enhancements to academic programs.

Every college, department and unit stands to benefit from "It Starts With State" campaign. The impact of scholarships, endowments, facility enhancements, professorships, endowed chairs and the Funds for Excellence reaches every academic college and program on campus.

INNOVATIVE

The first building of the Innovation Campus opened in 2008

The Innovation Campus at South Dakota State University marks the state's first and only university-affiliated research park. Located on 125 acres just east of campus, it provides an environment that fosters partnerships among the University, business, government and the community to grow the sciences and technology-based economy.

SDSU boasts the highest percentage of undergraduates involved in research of any South Dakota public university. SDSU is large enough to offer competitive research opportunities, yet small enough to foster student faculty learning opportunities.

Major areas of research at SDSU include:

- Engineering and technology research into photovoltaic devices, nanotechnology, materials science, wind power, surface transportation systems, signal and image processing, water treatment, computer sciences, software engineering and computational science and statistics
- Agricultural sciences research on crops and livestock, including food manufacturing, bio-based energy, economics and horticulture
- Management and conservation of natural resources.
- Health sciences, nutritional sciences and wellness research programs in pharmaceutical sciences, nutrition and exercise physiology
- Renewable energy research develops bio-based energy technologies, while promoting diversification and environmental sustainability of America's agriculture
- The federal government awarded SDSU and six other universities $69 million in federal funds over the next five years to serve as Vanguard centers for the National Children's Study. The NCS studies more than 100,000 children from across the country from conception to age 21

SDSU offers the most undergraduate research opportunities in the state

South Dakota State offers 21 varsity sports with Jackrabbit teams competing at the NCAA Division I level. Football competes in the Division I Football Championship Subdivision in the Missouri Valley Football Conference, while 18 sports compete in The Summit League. Wrestling competes in the Western Wrestling Conference, while equestrian currently competes without conference affiliation.

Evolution of a Nickname

Two theories exist as to how and why SDSU's athletic teams became known as the Jackrabbits. Most believe that the name "Jackrabbits" came from a story and cartoon sketch that appeared in a Minneapolis newspaper following a 1905 football game between the University of Minnesota and South Dakota State College. Many believe that a reporter for the newspaper, knowing of the preponderance of jackrabbits in the Brookings area, wrote that the SDSC team was as quick as jackrabbits. Many people believe that the school adopted the Jackrabbits as its official nickname from that beginning.

The other theory about the origin of the nickname came in "The Jackrabbit", SDSU's yearbook. A poem in the 1907 yearbook puts forth the idea that the yearbook is called "The Jackrabbit" because a group of juniors wished to immortalize themselves by changing the name of the yearbook. Athletic teams followed suit, adopting the nickname.

Prior to the adoption of the Jackrabbit nickname, fans knew the school athletic teams as the Barn Yard Cadets, which made sense, because the school went by the name of South Dakota State College of Agriculture and Mechanic Arts in 1907.

The Jackrabbit can run at speeds of 30-to-35 miles per hour, with bursts up to 45, making it the second fastest animal in North America, second only to the pronghorn antelope, which can run at speeds up to 60 miles per hour.

Properly speaking, Jackrabbits should not be called rabbits but hares, with longer feet and longer ears than rabbits. Most hares live in open country, whereas rabbits - like cottontails - live in brushy habitats.

Jackrabbits can grow up to two feet long; weigh from six to nine pounds, with ears up to eight inches long. Hares do not eat meat; they eat tender herbs in the summer and woody twigs and bark in the winter.

COMMUNITY

Located in Brookings, a growing community of about 20,000 people, South Dakota State University sits 20 miles west of the Minnesota border and 50 miles north of Sioux Falls in east-central South Dakota, Brookings can be found at the intersection of U.S. Highway 14 and Interstate 29.

Brookings and the surrounding area feature tremendous recreational and cultural opportunities. The city features a vibrant downtown area with shopping, nightlife opportunities and a new interactive children's museum. Brookings also maintains an extensive park and recreational trail system, with two 18-hole golf courses, and serves as a gateway to first-class fishing and hunting areas throughout eastern South Dakota.

South Dakota State University also houses several facilities, including museums and gardens, which highlight South Dakota history and heritage.

The South Dakota Art Museum houses several collections, including early Sioux Indian tribal art, the famed Harvey Dunn paintings of pioneer life and the exclusive Vera Way Marghab linens. The State Agricultural Heritage Museum transformed the former Stock Judging Pavilion into a home for exhibits that record and preserve the agrarian heritage of South Dakota.

The 70-acre McCrory Gardens and South Dakota Arboretum, located south and east of campus, provide a beautiful setting for area residents and tourists to enjoy a stroll through the radiant colors and fragrances of one of the top-10 small ornamental gardens in the nation. Adding to its honors, McCrory Gardens earned the distinction of being named an All-American Display Garden, one of only 13 in the nation.

The community houses several recognizable companies including Rainbow Play Systems, Minnesota Mining and Manufacturing (3M), Larson Manufacturing and Daktronics, a leading manufacturer of scoreboards and display systems.

The South Dakota Art Museum is free and open to the public

McCrory Gardens honors Professor S.A. McCrory, who headed the College of Agriculture and Biological Sciences from 1947 until his death in 1964
